

Understanding Family Violence for Workplaces

Learn to support employees experiencing family violence safely in this one day immersive workshop.

Who should attend ?

This training has been designed for:

- Organisational leaders
- Managers
- Supervisors
- HR managers/advisors

What is the approach ?

This training will be delivered by Dr Katie Lamb with experiential learning activities facilitated by Serious Woo actors. This training aims to be as interactive as possible and can be customised for a specific organisation's needs. The training can be delivered either in person* or online. Alternatively several times a year we open the training up to any organisations who are interested in attending a mixed group session.

What are the learning outcomes ?

Participants will gain an understanding of:

- The impacts, causes and drivers of family violence based on the latest international evidence
- How to identify the signs that an employee or colleague might be experiencing family violence,
- Strategies and approaches to engage in difficult conversations about family violence,
- An understanding of the family violence support system and how best to connect someone to those supports,
- Practical ideas about how to make your workplace more supportive and responsive to employees experiencing family violence.

dependent on COVID regulations and travel restrictions.*

